

Table of Contents \(目錄\)

Order\(訂購\)

Chinese Just War Ethics: Original, development, and dissent

Editors: Ping-cheung Lo and Sumner B. Twiss

Introduction

Chapter 1

Varieties of Statecraft and Warfare Ethics in Early China: An Overview

Ping-cheung Lo

Part One: The Military Strategy Tradition

Chapter 2

The Art of War Corpus and Chinese Just War Ethics Past and Present

Ping-cheung Lo

Chapter 3

Warfare Ethics in Sunzi's Art of War? – Historical Controversies and Contemporary Perspectives

Ping-cheung Lo

Part Two: The Confucian Tradition

Chapter 4

The Classical Confucian Position on the Legitimate Use of Military Force

Sumner B. Twiss & Jonathan K. L. Chan

Chapter 5

Classical Confucianism, Punitive Expeditions, and Humanitarian Intervention

Sumner B. Twiss & Jonathan K. L. Chan

Chapter 6

Xunzi's Moral Analysis of War and Some of its Contemporary Implications

Aaron Stalnaker

Chapter 7

Wang Yang-ming's Ethics of War

Sumner B. Twiss & Jonathan K. L. Chan

Part Three: The Daoist, Mohist, and Legalist Traditions

Chapter 8	“Weapons are Nothing but Ominous Instruments”: The Daodejing ’s View on War and Peace	Ellen Y. Zhang
Chapter 9	Zheng (征) as Zheng (正)? A Daoist Challenge to Punitive Expeditions	Ellen Y. Zhang
Chapter 10	Mohist Arguments on War	Hui-chieh Loy
Chapter 11	Legalism and Offensive Realism in the Chinese Court Debate on Defending National Security 81 BCE	Ping-cheung Lo